Player profile:	Can play anywhere in the middle capable of controlling the game, add on attack, great vision pass quality, recommendation letter from portland timbers coach you can see below
Achievements:	To whom it may concern: This letter is in support of Ali Fares, a player I am familiar with from our Portland Timbers U23 Tryout Camp. I would encourage you to take a look at Ali as I feel he has the potential to benefit your team. Ali is a crafty player with good technical ability. His understanding of the game is well beyond his age and he has a great mentality and approach to the game. He looks to play into feet and combine with target players. He overcomes his physical stature by having great movement on and off the ball and an understanding of the game that allows him to find the ball often. He has potential to be a strong number 10 with good technical players around him. Ali is the kind of player who can dictate the tempo of a game, orchestrate the attack and will surely benefit your program. He could stand to improve on the defensive side of the game but if paired with a stronger defensive midfielder he could find a good fit. Again, I would encourage you to take an honest look at Ali and I think, given the proper style, could be a useful addition to your team. 2016: player of the year and top assist leader with 10 assists.
